MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH IS OUT FOR GOVERNOR

Philadelphia Educator Announces Candidacy For Republican Nomination in Formal Letter To Pennsylvania Voters

OUTLINES HIS PLANS AND INTENTIONS

M. G. Brumbaugh of Philadelphia formally announces his candidacy for the Republican nomination for governor of Pennsylvania in the following letter, which was made public today:

To the People of Pennsylvania:

In response to the call of the "home folks" in my native county, Huntingdon, and in answer to the requests of thousands of other good citizens, I have decided to submit my name to the voters as a candidate for Governor on the Republican ticket at the May primaries.

I have not been an office seeker nor an office holder in any political or partisan sense. My life has been devoted to the educational interests of this Commonwealth and of the country at large. I have endeavored to serve all the people and to be just and helpful to the pupils and teachers for whom so much of my life has been given. My life's work must be my platform and my pledge. I have no different gift of service for my fellow citizens. What I have honestly labored to do I shall continue to do.

I have no entangling alliances of any sort. I am under no promise, no agreement, made or implied. I shall never be a party to any such thing. If elected, it must be with the definite understanding that I shall be entirely free to perform my official duties solely and steadily for the people as a whole. I shall reverently and humbly endeavor to do my duty in harmony with my conscience and under the guidance of the Divine.

I shall say nothing to get a vote that I will not do after the vote is given. He is blind, indeed, who does not see everywhere in wider intelligence, aroused citizenship, quickened conscience and greater devotion to civic righteousness, the signs of an increasingly virtuous quality in our people. Officials of all stations must conform to this great awakening or meet the consequences. Only those should serve the people who will lead them to the best in social, industrial and educational progress. I submit my candidacy unreservedly upon this high plane and assure the people that I shall give my full strength to its accomplishment.

I hold to the wise division of governmental functions as provided in our Constitution. It is not right to promise what one cannot do. My sense of the right prevents me from declaring for issues of moment when such declarations are intended solely to secure votes. The Legislature enacts our laws. The Judiciary interprets our laws. The Executive administers our laws. The quality of administration is the first concern and duty of the Governor. It will be my fixed purpose to apply with certainty and impartiality the laws of our Commonwealth. I recognize also the binding obligation imposed by law to advise the Legislature upon all wise and beneficient enactments and firmly to resist any attempt to foist any other sort upon the people. The veto power is a legal regulator and conservator. I shall not hesitate to encourage legislation of the most advanced practical kind. We grow rapidly into new social and economic conditions. These must be met by wise and effective regulation.

The Welfare of Toilers.

(1) The most precious asset of the Commonwealth is its people. Their daily duty is to toil. I shall gladly welcome any laws that make proper provision for the protection of our laborers, whether men or women or children. The child above fourteen should be in school or at work. He should never be allowed to loaf the street as he now does. I also believe in an advanced Workingmen's Compensation Act and in an Employers' Liability Act that includes large industrial and corporate activity but not the farm and the household.

Advanced Road Legislation

(2.) Our people should have easy access to the markets with their products. It is vital that we have good roads honestly and economically constructed. The state should build good roads wherever traffic demands the same. The roads so constructed should be placed under competent men whose duty it will be to keep these roads constantly in good condition. The roads already taken over by the state and not yet rebuilt should at once be made passable. It is a disgrace to allow them to remain as they now are. The state has an imperative obligation to make ample provision for the complete realization of Act 440 of the last legislature. This Act gave assurance to the several townships of a 50 percent support to supplement local initiative in road building. The funds have not been provided to meet the very proper requests of the townships. There should be great reaches of good dirt roads well crowned, properly graded and amply drained. Large appropriations must be made to carry out these greatly needed improvements. Every toll road in this commonwealth shold be abolished.

Favors Local Option.

(3. The problem of the liquor traffic is a vital one facing the people and the Legislature today. In harmony with many thoughtful persons, I submit that local option is a practical solution. Any legislative measure looking to an improvement of the conditions regulating this traffic will receive my approval.

Urges Scientific Efficiency in Government.

(4.) The public service should be as efficient as private service. I believe in an administration of scientific efficiency and would approve a sane and practical state civil service act. My experience in administering such a law in the selection of teachers confirms this opinion.

Approves Woman Suffrage

(5) The last Legislature passed a resolution submitting to the people an amendment to the Constitution providing for woman suffrage. The next Legislature should also pass this wise resolution and give the people the opportunity to vote upon this important measure.

Conservation of Natural Resources

(6) The natural resources of our State are a heritage of which we are

PETITIONS FILED FOR RE-HEARING

Three Charleroi License Applications Are Subjects of Petitions Presented to Washington County Court

It is possible that the license situation in Charleroi may be opened up again, if the court acts favorably on petitions that have been filed both in favor and against certain hotel men in the borough. On Monday there was presented to the court petitions for rehearings in the matter of the applications of George M. Fellows, W. H. Cole and William H. Zellars. Judge McIlvaine took the petitions directed that they be filed and stated that he would take the matter under advisement for a few days.

According to the Washington Observer there are eight largely signed petitions in which is requested a renewal of the license held by Mr Fellows at the Myford hotel, Charleroi.

Mr. Fellows, was one of the Charleroi applicants fought at the last license court and was refused a renewal of his license for the year beginning May 1. There were also charges preferred against Cole and Zellars. They were granted renewals.

Harry F. Moore and John C. Judson, attorneys for the remonstrants, ask rehearings as to Cole and Zellars. They give as a reason that material evidence has been found, which was not in the possession of the remonstrants, nor was it presented in court at the time these applications were heard.

Several hundred names are attached to the petitions, representing all walks of life, both business and professional men and some interesting developments are promised in case the hearings are reopened.

CHARITIES WORK WELL ORGANIZED FOR YEAR

Steps Taken Through Reorganization of Association To Put Work of Committee on New and Sound Basis

MUCH DONE DURING THE PAST YEAR

When the Associated Charities of Charleroi meeting was held on Monday evening in the borough building, definite steps were taken for carrying on work among the poor in Charleroi and the community through a thoroughly representative method. By the plans adopted the poor work will be even more systematic than it was and will in all respects be better carried on.

Officers elected for the ensuing year were: President, Charles O. Frye; vice president, Burgess S. L. Woodward; secretary, L. J. Mitchell; treasurer, George W. Risbeck; board members W. M Darby, C. W. Albright, Dr. J. W. Hunter; auditors, J. M. Fleming and W. D. Pollock.

The system of conducting the affairs of the association was explained and fully approved by the members. Under the new plans of representation in the association any person who donates $2.00 or more will be considered a member and various firms, corporations, employers of help and assemblies will hold membership.

Systematic investigation of all cases reported to the board will be made. According to the arangement it will take the consent of four members of the board before aid is extended, and five before any case can be turned down. In case of a disagreement it will take seven members of the board o rthe nuire board to decide.

When reports of last year's work were made, past liberality of the citizens was revealed and a vote of thanks to contributors was taken. Jesse K. Johnston, who is no longer a resident of Charleroi, was voted a life honorary member of the association in recognition of his past services in getting the association on a firm basis from the time of its inception.

A statement of affairs for 1913 was made, showing that during the year 28 families in all had been assisted, with cash left on hand. Also a report was made of the condition of the treasury up until March, 1915, showing that the receipts for over a year up until that time, including money in the treasury had been $615.48, and expenditures $273.60. The association is now in good shape for carrying on work among the poor, and proposes to extend help wherever help is needed, and to repress professional begging.

PATRICK ACTON ANNOUNCES FOR THE ASSEMBLY

The river district will have another candidate for the nomination for assembly on the Republican ticket, and one who will be a formidable opponent to all other aspirants for the same position. This is Patrick Acton of Allenport, who makes formal announcement of his candidacy after consulting with his friends and looking the field over carefully.

Mr. Acton, who has been a resident of Washington county for 35 years, has always been a Republican and an active worker for the party. He has been a delegate to the state convention and has served more or less continuously as a local committeeman for his district. He has never before been a candidate, but his friends think that he is entitled to consideration at the hands of the people and that now is an auspicious time to make the run for the nomination for assembly.

In his early career, along the river Mr. Acton worked as a coal miner and was one of the founders of the great organization of United Mine Workers in this section. He was one of the first organizers to work among the miners along the river, when his efforts were beset with many difficulties and obstacles. Eighteen years ago he located at Allenport where he has been in business ever since. In this he has been eminently successful, and is one of the substantial citizens of the community.

Mr. Acton is also active in fraternal affairs, being connected with several of the leading fraternal organizations. He is preparing for an active campaign and it is a safe prediction to say that he will give all his opponents for the Republican nomination a big hustle, whoever they may be.

WATER COMPANY CHEMIST COMES TO CHARLEROI

An expert chemist has been engaged by the backers of the Tri-Cities Water company and the water companies at Greenville and New Kensington, in the person of C. C. Humphrey of Pittsburg and he has taken up his work at Charleroi as headquarters. Mr Humphrey will virtually be in charge of the work at the Charleroi filtration plant and he will have his laboratory there.

All tests will be made at the Charleroi laboratory of the water for the five towns, Charleroi, Monessen, Donora Greenville and New Kensington. Samples of water of course will be taken at the various points and brought here for tests.

Mr. Humphrey comes here after service in Pittsburg and Ithaca, N. Y. Past tests of the Charleroi, Monessen and Donora water shows that it averages from 98 to 99 per cent pure.

A GREAT EVANGELIST.

In these days of active and enthusiastic religious evangelism, it is a long hark to the pagan days of the human race when the greatest evangelists that the world ever produced kindled anew the intellectual spark that was all but extinguished and instilled the gospel of Christianity and human love into the hearts of men who knew it not. Of these no greater evangelist ever existed than St. Patrick, who is being specially honored as the patron saint of Ireland over all the civilized world today.

While the name of St. Patrick is particularly revered by the Irish people, it is of deep significance to all in the moral and intellectual development of the human race. St. Patrick was one of the great evangelists who transformed a nation of pagans into Christians. By instilling the gospel of love and humanity into the hearts of a nation, at a time when primitive barbarianism was inherent, St. Patrick paved the way for the spread of the gospel of brotherly love onward and upward to its ultimate destiny. The whole civilized world is indebted-ed to this great evangelist for the blessings it enjoys today, and there is deep and sincere reverence in the observance of his natal day of which we should all take account as well as the glamor of romance and sentiment with which his name is invested.

TO PROTECT THE HOME

In a recent address Mrs. Helen Grenfel, a member of the state penitentiary board in Colorado where women have had the right to vote for years, remarked that the opponents of Woman Suffrage never tire of declaring that "woman's place is in the home." To this Mrs. Grenfel heartily agreed, but she added some convincing arguments that politics most vitally concern the home. Among other things she said:

"The state is so much the over-parent today that I cannot look after my home without the vote. The law says when the child shall go to school, what books it shall study, food it shall eat, what carfare it shall pay, when it shall be vaccinated or given serums, punishes the child with truant officers, truant schools, juvenile courts and tells when it may quit school and when it may go to work. It is through franchises gained by the ballot that I am told what to pay for my water, my gas, my electric light, my telephone; it is by the vote that liquor questions are decided and ordinances adopted for the regulation of morals.

"One must also consider the seven or eight millions of women who are forced outside the home by the necessities of existence. Is this vast army of underpaid, overworked toilers to have no voice at all? If women voted in New York, do you think America would be shamed by the spectacle of the Triangle factory owners being fined $20 for the very offense that cost the lives of 45 girls in a former fire?

"There are as many home features in municipal or state administration as business features. Perhaps you may remember that the Indiana legislature recently passed a $5,000 appropriation for thebetter care of hogs and defeated an appropriation of $5,000 for the better care of children. Do you see what I mean? I do not question the importance of the appropriation for the revenue-producing hog, but would not it have been well had some women been in that legislature to stand up for the non-revenue-producing child?"

PICKED UP IN PASSING

Judge Singleton Bell and Walter Welch, district attorney of Clearfield county, are preparing for an official stone pile to be used by the men who would rather go to jail during the cold weather than support their wives, the number of whom are growing at an alarming rate in Clearfield county. At present there are no fewer than seven men toasting t heir shins around the steam radiators at the Clearfield county jail who are there because they refuse to support their families. When the robins return from the south they will arrange some way of regaining their freedom but when the blasts of winter are blowing they are contented to be snug and warm in the county jail, while the wife does the hustling to keep the children from freezing and starving to death.

For the accommodation of these fellows, Judge Bell and the district attorney will soon have in operation an official stone pile, where these fine fellows will be expected to put in ten hours a day at hard work if the efforts of those two officials are successful.

A New Bethlehem, Clarion county man attended the meetings held by "Billy" Sunday at Pittsburg and unknowingly dropped a certified check on the sawdust trail. Fred Seibert, erstwhile cowpuncher, found the check, returned it to the maker, who in turn sent it again to the New Bethlehem man before the latter had discovered its loss. There are said to be places at Pittsburg where a lost certified check never would get back to its owner.

According to the official report from the Jefferson County Home the inmates are heavy on tabacco. There was $210.52 expended for tobacco during the year. Pipes and tobacco are furnished to the inmates but cigars and cigarettes are tabooed. The finely flavored brands are not in evidence but the kind that was familiarly known twenty-five years ago as "kill dad" led all the rest.

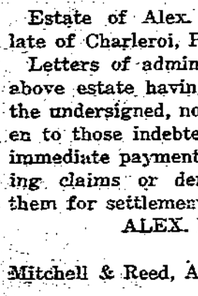
THOUGHT SHE COULD NOT LIVE

Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Unionville, Mo.—"I suffered from a female trouble and I got so weak that I could hardly walk across the floor without holding on to something. I had nervous spells and my fingers would cramp and my face would draw, and I could not speak, nor sleep to do any good, had no appetite, and everyone thought I would not live. Some one advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I had taken so much medicine and my doctor said he could do me no good so I told my husband he might get me a bottle and I would try it. By the time I had taken it I felt better. I continued its use, and now I am well and strong.



"I have always recommended your medicine ever since I was so wonderfully benefitted by it and I hope this letter will be the means of saving some other poor woman from suffering."—Mrs. MARTHA SEAVEY, Box 1144, Unionville, Missouri.

The makers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have thousands of such letters as that above—they tell the truth, else they could not have been obtained for love or money. This medicine is no stranger—it has stood the test for years.

If there are any complications you do not understand write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

FELT CALLED ON TO REBUKE

Deacon Had Suffered From Appearance of Evil and Realized Sense of Duty.

One day a western deacon went to make a fraternal call on an esteemed brother, and while engaged in conversation there came a knock at the door and the host was summoned to attend to a matter of business.

"Brother," impressively remarked the deacon when the host returned, "I feel that it is my duty to tell you that you should avoid even the appearance of evil."

"Why, deacon," responded the host in a surprised voice, "to what are you referring?"

"Those decanters on the sideboard," solemnly answered the deacon, "each of them is filled with what appears to be ardent spirits."

"That's a conceit of my wife's, deacon," laughed the host, greatly relieved. "The bottles were so pretty that she filled them with floor stain and furniture polish just for a show."

"That's why I'm cautioning you, brother," sadly rejoined the deacon. "Feeling a trifle weak and faint, I helped myself from the larger bottle."

His Sympathy for the Old Maids.

It is being told that the mayor of an Iowa city is an old bachelor and witty, and among his constituents are a family of spinsters who are precise and cranky. One night a charivari occurred near the home of the spins, and disturbed their slumbers and peace of mind, and the following morning they called on the mayor to remonstrate. "It is a shame that small boys are permitted to make such hideous noises in this city," said one of the spins, who assumed great dignity. "Ladies, I assure you that I am shocked at the conduct of those boys, and had I known that a charivari was going on I certainly would have sent the entire police department to the scene of the grewsome activity," said the mayor. "I agree with you that nothing like that should have occurred in this city of civilized people. And if everybody were like you and me there would be no mean little brats to make such a hideous racket."—Kansas City Star.

Bird Man Has Arrived.

On the day after Christmas a Russian aviator at St. Petersburg flew a new machine of his own making for hours, carrying ten passengers in addition to a heavy load of ballast. This establishes the aeroplane as a sure adjunct of modern transportation, including passengers and freight. A few days before this even we heard of the successful use of the flying machine by the French army operating in Morocco, which puts this new mode of warfare among the arms of military operations of our day, and hereafter when we use the expression "all arms" we shall have to include the flying machine

Will Hold the Mayoralty.

A summons, by which it was sought to disqualify Alderman Henry O'Shea, the lord mayor of Cork, from sitting as a member of the city county, on the ground that he is an alien, has been dismissed by the Cork magistrates. Maurice Healy, M. P., who prosecuted, said Mr. O'Shea himself had admitted that he was an American citizen. The defense put in a certificate by the British consul at New York to the effect that no such name as "Henry O'Shea" appeared as registered as an American citizen.

Cut Out Middlemen.

Russian peasants formerly sold their wine in advance to middlemen, realizing only about one-half of the value of the product. Last year, however, there were only a few transactions and the peasants expect to do without the middlemen in future.

Recovered from Lung Trouble—Now Insured

Insurance companies will not accept any one affected with Lung Trouble. When you know a man who has been afflicted and who later has been insured, such action means that the policy-holder must be in a very good state of health. Cases have been reported when Lung Sufferers, after taking Eckman's Alterative, a remedy for Throat and Lung Troubles, have successfully passed the medical test of insurance companies. Read this case:—

237 Dean St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Gentlemen: About a year and a half ago I noticed that my health was rapidly failing. I was troubled with night sweats, a severe cough and was very weak; having, in fact, absolutely no ambition whatever. About this time I consulted a physician, who told me my lungs were affected. Not satisfied I went to another doctor, who, after examining me, said that I was in the first stages of Lung Trouble. At this point I started to take Eckman's Alterative. The night sweats stopped almost immediately, my cough became looser and gradually disappeared. My weight is now 142 pounds and my physician has pronounced me perfectly sound—which, together with the fact that I have just been accepted by two different insurance companies for insurance, makes me sure of my entire recovery by Eckman's Alterative."

W. E. GEE.

(Affidavit)

Eckman's Alterative has been proven by many years' test to be most efficacious for severe Throat and Lung Affections, Bronchitis, Bronchial Asthma, Stubborn Colds and in upbuilding the system. Contains no narcotics, poisons or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet telling of recoveries, and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for evidence. For sale by all leading druggists

MADE HIM GIVE UP THE GAME

Caddie's Unfeeling Remarks Too Much for Tender Feelings of Dear Old Gentleman.

A dear old gentleman, who had only taken up the dear game very late in life, spent some months endeavoring, under the tuition of a professional and the care of a special caddie, to hit the ball. When he succeeded in doing so at all it was never more than a few yards, and every bunker on the course was his daily doom. Still his caddie, having an eye to the main chance, always encouraged him to think that he would soon be more a player, and the old man, with the hope that springs eternal even more in the hearts of golfers than in other people, firmly believed him. One day it happened that his special caddy was absent, and a ruffianly looking person appeared on the first tee with the old gentleman's clubs. He took his normal 14 shots to the first hole, to the unconcealed but unnoticed disgust of the caddie; but on the second tee the miracle happened, and the old boy for once hit a beauty.

"That was a good one, wasn't it?" he asked, turning to the bearer of clubs.

"Good one?" retorted the ruffian, in tones of the bitterest contempt. "Why, I could play better than that with me left foot!"

This unexpected verdict so upset the poor old man that he walked straight back home, and has never touched a club since.

RANK HIGH IN SCHOLARSHIP

That Athletes Are Poor Students Is Denied by Former Professor in an Eastern College.

"That athletics are practiced in most colleges do not detract the attention of students from scholastic duties is abundantly testified to by college professors," remarked Dr. James Hineman, a former professor in one of the eastern colleges. Dr. Brinker, the president of Lehigh university, declared that the Lehigh football squad had averaged higher in scholastic standing than the students who did not participate in college athletics. Lehigh is not the only college in which this fact has been marked. Cornell for several years—and I have no doubt that it continues to show it—had football and baseball teams the members of which led their classes.

"Properly controlled athletics are as necessary to successful mental training as are professors. I presume there have been instances where members of college teams have failed in their examinations, and charges follow, as a matter of course, that these men are not genuine students. But the facts are so pronounced that the best men on the leading athletic teams in our greatest colleges are men of big mentality that the suggestion that colleges have to hire athletes falls in its beginning."

Woman's Work.

According to the last volume of the British census returns in the United Kingdom women have succeeded in establishing themselves in a number of industries where their presence is unexpected.

Several women are paper-hangers and whitewashers, and four are bricklayers—all of them widows. There is only one woman coachman. Three women appear under the heading of "clergymen, priests and ministers," and four are coalheavers.

Then there are 347 women "carmen" and wagoners, and 231 women blacksmiths and "strikers."

One woman occupies herself with making patent fuel, and there are three women shipwrights, and five women "tramway car makers."

Finally, England and Wales can boast of 58 women carpenters and joiners, and 14 women masons. Of the latter 13 are widows.

What Interested Her.

Little Myrtle, the daughter of Colonel and Mrs. Cargetts of the Salvation Army, was apparently intensely interested in a sermon by Col. Samuel Brengle, for many years a friend of the late Gen. William Booth, at Salvation Army headquarters, in West Fourteenth street. Her parents highly approved of this reverent attitude.

"You were greatly impressed by Colonel Brengle's speech, were you not, my dear?" said her proud parent after the meeting.

"Yes, papa," she answered enthusiastically. "I was wondering all the time he was talking how far his chin sank into his whiskers." Colonel Brengle is blessed with a particularly impressive hirsute adornment.—New York Tribune.

London's Modern Fire Brigade.

The London fire brigade is rapidly becoming a completely motor-equipped fire fighting organization. Today London possesses 97 motor appliances and two motor fire floats. It is now proposed to spend in the near future $500,000 in providing 53 motor escape vans, 43 electric escape vans, 94 petrol or petrol electric motor pumps, 27 motor turntable ladders, 11 motor lorries, 5 motor ladders, 15 motor cars, and a motor canteen van, or 249 new motor appliances. In three years horses will be unknown in the London fire brigade.

It's Best Anyway.

"I'm an optimist," said ex-Governor Sulzer at a banquet in New York. "I was an optimist before my impeachment. Then I lost my optimism temporarily.

"An optimist," the ex-governor added, dreamily, "is a chap who doesn't know what's coming to him."

the responsible guardians. We shall be false to the succeeding generations if we do not pass these as nearly unimpaired as posible to our posterity. The public control of our water powers and the reforestration of our hills and mountains are obligations of commanding importance.

Pleads For Scientific Agriculture.

(7) The enduring source of good to our people is the soil. It should be cared for in the most effective way. The legislature cannot make too liberal provision for active cooperation with all agencies at work to enlighten the people, to conserve their health, to promote their happiness and to increase the rewards of labor whether expended upon the soil or elsewhere. Every effort that makes for prosperous, contented toilers is wholly commendable and permaneatly worth while. A training for vocation that does not include training in agriculture is inadequate training.

Enlarged Program for Education

(8) The right education of our youth is a paramount obligation. There should be increasing appropriations for education as the number of pupils to be educated increases. We should expend enough for education to guarantee under wise regulation and supervision the return in capable citizens we long for and should attain. Wherever the funds of the Commonwealth go its supervision should follow. So long as a single child is born into a home that does not front a school we shall need more and better educational facilities. Provision for a greatly enlarged permanent school fund should be made by the Legislature. The education of our youth ought not to rest wholly upon the insecure foundation of current taxes and annual appropriations.

Urges Reorganization of Appropriations to Charity.

(9) There is neither sense nor justice in unstudied appropriations to our many charitable institutions and agencies. These constitute important and wholly worthy objects of public concern and support. The Legislature should know from competent authority their real needs and should follow such knowledge in making its appropriations. Moreover, the bounty of the state should never exceed the assured income of the state. It should not again occur that the obligation of lessening this bounty should be placed upon the Executive It is a definite duty of the Legislature and to that body I shall turn to insist that its gifts shall not exceed its resources.

Advanced Stand on Other Important Legislation.

(10) I would welcome legislation providing a thoroughly effective and just regulation of corporate activities providing increased power of local development of our great municipalities, providing improved and extended commercial facilities by land and by water, providing a modern and equitable system of taxation, providing increased protection to life and property, and providing such additional legislation as will meet the reasonable needs of our people.

I reserve the privilege of discussing other isues of moment as they may arise.

I have neither sympathy nor respect for those who exploit the people for their personal gain. I have never done this. I have never countenanced it. I will never allow it to be done if I can prevent it.

The decision to become a candidate was taken only after mature thought and in the sincere conviction that it is my duty to do so. I desire to promote the highest good of all the people. Every race, sex, creed and condition must be considered alike and treated alike in this Commonwealth. My love for my native state is largely due to the fact that from the days of the great Penn we have steadily held to these ideals. It will be my pleasure to help make these ideals increasingly substantial accomplishments.

I invite and welcome the support of all citizens, regardless of partisan alignment, who believe with me that the day has come when only capacity and character and their expression in conduct shold be considered in selecting public officials. I agree that we need a moral standard in all public officials. I agree that we need a moral standard in all public service. I welcome a campaign upon the great moral issues of the day. Let us be honestly frank and frankly honest with the people.

I appeal to all to unite in giving this great Commonwealth an Executive without pledge or promise, save to God and the commonwealth that he will conscientiously labor to deal justly, honestly and righteously by all.

It is my understanding that the open primary was enacted to enable the voters to exercise the utmost freedom in selecting candidates for office. This is the true spirit of representative government based upon a pure democracy. For this reason, I trust we may have a wide open primary with many candidates that the people may choose after full inquiry thise whom they would have to serve them.

M. G. Brumbaugh.

GAME TO BE FIXED UP BY TIED TEAMS

For once such a thing as the high school championship in basketball in historical Washington county is not to be left in doubt.

Monongahela high school claims the honor. So does Charleroi high school. Each team has won a game. And now the teams will have to go away off some place to play the third and last contest.

The reason for going away is easy. Charleroi won't play at Monongahela and Monongahela couldn't be induced to play in Charleroi for a Texas farm. Besides neither high school has a gymnasium big enough to hold the crowd.

So now about four towns—maybe more—are bidding for the big attraction. Pittsburg, the suburb, has put in its plea, Uniontown is willing, Homestead wouldn'tobject and Washington—well Washington is always after anything it can get.

On Monday Monongahela made overtures by sending the superintendent of schools, Prof. R. G. Dean, to Charleroi to meet Charleroi's superintendent of schools, Prof. T. L. Pollock, about the game. Both agreed it would have to be played on a neutral floor, and both agreed there was not a place hereabout that would do. So this afternoon Prof. Pollock is going to pay Prof. Dean a return visit and just like in national governmental affairs there may be something to announce tomorrow.

Charleroi rather likes the suggestion to go to Uniontown, hiring a special train for the rumpus. Monongahela does not balk very much at the idea, but hints at Trees gym in Pittsburg, where the University of Pittsburg team plays sometimes. Homestead and the Washington and Jefferson college gymnasium are mere side attractions thus far.

Coach Howard Crane of Monongahela is drillinñ his team and petting and pampering and primping them the same as Americans were primed and so farth for the world's Olympiad. Charleroi high's athletes are so well drilled that Coach Lorimer thinks it best to let them rest a couple of days and anyway on both Friday and Saturday nights of this week there are going to be hard battles with visiting teams.

GREEN CONSPICUOUS TODAY; ST PATRICK IS HONORED

Green is conspicious today in commemoration of the life of St. Patrick, the patron saint of the Irish. Nearly everybody is wearing a shamrock, or some strip of green showing their loyalty and friendship to the sentiment of the Hibernian holiday. Tonight an Irish minstrel show will be given at the Turner Hall by Division No. 2, Ancient Order of Hibernians, and a program replete with Irish wit and humor presented.
